JUDGE PARKER WARNS AMERICANS.

"The republican party stands for the subjugation of a defenseless people. Democracy stands for freedom."

"We relieved Spain of this thorn in her flesh, the Philippines, to plant into our own. We paid and are paying enormously for the privilege performing the operation."

"Every true American would despise a man who would not fight to the last gasp for the land of his forefathers and the first place of his babies. We perpetually point with pride to our love of liberty. The republican platform asserts that 50 years ago the republican party came into existence dedicated among other purposes to the great task of restoring the extension of human slavery."

"That sounds well. But it speaks of virtue of another general kind. The leaders of the republican party of that day have passed away. In their place have come very different men. We have done our duty to Cuba. We have left her to work out her own salvation; to take her place in the march of civilized nations. Shall we forbid the Philippines to hope for freedom? Shall we prevent their building up their own civilization and try to force ours upon them? Civilization is a growth, not a dogma. Our duty to the Philippines demands a promise of independence. But if it did not our own interests demand that we be relieved of the Philippines just as soon as they are reasonably prepared for self government."

"We hold the Philippines. Have we taken the proper steps to fulfill the obligation thereon assumed? Are the Philippine Islands to-day a self-supporting community? Are not their financial and acquiring position subversive at every turn by the legislation we have forced upon them?"

"I warn the republicans party that it is not an absurd proposition that it is an oppressed—I use term advisedly—an oppressed people should be restored."

"Continue, as we are doing, to oppress these people and one of the greatest questions this nation has ever been called upon to deal with will confront us interminably. We must choose whether within our borders the rule of our government shall be the rule of the idealism or materialism, which is a sure precursor of dissolution, for no nation can endure upon a basis of materialism, however splendid."

Senator Morgan's revelation of the deal by which the speculator, France, and the grey wolves of the lobby" of Mr. Watterson calls them pocketed $500,000 in the Panama Canal steel, exposes the unprincipled transaction in all its infamy. Roosevelt overrode the congress, drew a check and four through the constitution, defying international law, and creating faith with the South American States that glory of building the Canal might attach to his administration. He has no account as he is unscrupulous. His impetuosity, fed by the unquenchable fires of his vanity, is a constant menace to the peace and welfare of the country."

AND WHY NOT?
John T. Smith is a soldier brave in the armies of the United States and attached to the hospital service at Fort Mott in the godly state of New Jersey. From all accounts Smith did not a wound in consequence. While in the hospital he was nursed by Sara Wulfer, a volunteer Red Cross nurse, and also nurses. Smith recovered and returned from war's alarms to duty at Fort Mott and, somehow, Sara turned up in the neighborhood not long ago and now army circles, and also colored circles, are scandalized over the fact that Smith and Sara have been married—and what is the aftermath to be?

The officers of his regiment are demanding his discharge on the ground that his marriage with a negro is prejudicial to discipline, and a scandal to the army. Singularly enough the colored residents of Salem, the town near Fort Mott, is located, are warmly indignant and have ostracized Sara while the white folks have given Smith the frigid mist.

So indignant are the officers of the regiment that a direct appeal has been made to President Roosevelt for the discharge of Smith. But Smith stands on the Roosevelt example and defiantly says:

"President Roosevelt died with Booker Washington, a negro, I wedded

THE EFFECTS OF TARIFFS.

The bulletins issued by the treasury department give the total world imports and exports at $22,324,000,000—an enormous total no doubt. But it gives the total inland trade and commerce of the United States at $22,000,000,000. The world export and import trade is controlled by prohibitory tariff walls. There is no tariff wall between any one or more of the states making up the United States.

The wool pulp made from the spruce or the poplar of Kentucky, or of North Carolina or of Maine passes from one state to another, and not a customs officer interferes with it. But it is in the hands of a gigantic trust and to aid the truth the Dingley tariff places on its importation from Norway or from Canadian forests a duty so large that not a stick comes from either country. But the wool pulp trust goes merrily on with its prices fixed to suit itself and raising the cost of the newspaper, the magazine, the school book or the novel to the public.

That is not merely an instance of the workings of Dingley's tariff. It can put a tariff on imports and on exports between the states, but it cannot accomplish its purpose by putting a prohibitory tariff on the raw material and on the manufactured article, and the consumer pays the tariff tax.

It is in the face of it all, the freedom of trade between the states of the union brings about a development that far exceeds the total of all imports and exports of all the civilized countries of the world. A tariff law and an import tariff; a tax on one article and a prohibitory tariff on another that the trusts may prosper at the expense of the public. And the Republican party has selected as its candidate a gentleman who knows neither the constitution nor the law, when either stands in the way of his construction of duty.

It is time for the American people to think, and to continue thinking and to vote as they think it in their hearts, they appreciate the burdens placed on the consumer for the benefit of the trusts, and if they appreciated the danger threatening the very life blood of the republic—Owenboro Messenger.

EYES AS A SIGN OF INTELLECT.
Generally the special point of difference between unimportant and remarkable people lies in their eyes, in the clear, steady, piercing gaze which is able to subdue or terrify the beholder. Write Lady Violet. Greville in the "Graphic" Sir Edmund Burton's look could never be forgotten either. I imagine, could Napoleon or Victor Hugo or that of any other great man. The eye is the window of the brain and through it shines the intelligence.

The Canadian Railroads can buy steel rails 100 c. cheaper from the steel trust than any American Railroad can buy them. The shivering tariff discriminates in this and a hundred other ways against the home consumer in favor of the foreigner. The Kentucky farmer does not indulge in the luxury of steel rails but indirectly he pays the tax on this important article of course, just as he does on the shoes and clothes he wears—all to enrich the trusts the darlings of the Republican party and the chief contributors to their Campaigns.

I have an improved farm, 4 miles from Columbia, on Greensburg road, for sale. S. D. Greenhaw.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Judge.

We are authorized to announce that Hon. L. H. THURMAN, of Washington, D. C., has been elected to the position of Circuit Judge in the district comprising the counties of Green, Taylor, Martin and Wayne, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The issues in this Campaign are well defined. There is no excuse for any intelligent voter going astray. Here are the cardinal principles of both parties. The Republicans stand committed to a policy of imperialism, which means a large army, the acquirement and retention of colonies in the Philippines, and elsewhere, and a consequent interference in the affairs of other nations, inciting jealousies and inviting disaster. The Democrats favor freedom for the Filipinos; a decrease in the military establishment; peace with the world and a careful avoidance of territorial aggrandizement, which can only lead to international complications. The Republicans are unalterably committed to a Protective Tariff, which robs the many to enrich the few, and which has built up great private fortunes at the expense of the masses of the people. The Democrats believe in a tariff for revenue only, adjusted to the needs of an economical administration of public affairs. The Republicans, having fostered the Trusts which defy the law, have named as the Chairman of their Campaign Committee the very man who was sworn to enforce the statute against them. Instead of punishing these criminal destroyers of individual effort Cortelyou, President Roosevelt's own choice, is begging them for contributions to the Republican corruption fund, thus reducing black mail to a fine art. The Democrats favor the strict enforcement of the Sherman law, with whatever and the common law carry over in an honest effort to regulate trusts, which under the control of Morgan and Rockefeller have cornered the business and the money of the country, and will end by foreclosing a mortgage on the government itself. Republicanism means a strong centralized government, plus the personal equation, represented by the autocratic, impulsive individuality of Theodore Roosevelt, who has made a foot ball of the constitution, and has usurped every governmental function belonging to the co-ordinate branches. Democracy stands for the autonomy of the states guaranteed by the Federal Constitution, yielding obedience to the Courts and to the laws formulated by the Congress, and firm in the belief that the chief Executive is the servant and not the master of the people. The Republicans have "opened the door of honor" to the negro in the shape of Federal offices in the white communities of the South, with an occasional lunch with the President to convince the colored man and brother that his vote is all important. They have propagated the destroying germ of social equality which has entered the base minds of the negroes, increasing their insolence and encouraging their hatred of the people of the South, who refuse to give them the recognition Roosevelt granted Booker Washington. The Democrats are educating the negroes, giving them equal opportunities with their own children, and bearing every other burden which the presence of this ignorant, depraved race in the South imposes on them; but they protest against the attempt of the Republican party to incite the negro to fresh outbreaks of crime, the logical result of their failure to secure from the Southern people the personal affiliation and comradeship which the President bestowed on the leader of their race. These are the main points of difference between the two parties. What self-respecting Democrat, no matter what past differences may have been, can refuse to vote for his party in this campaign, in the face of the record and avowals above set forth.

There is every assurance of a splendid Democratic majority in this State. The thorough work of the Campaign Committee has aroused the voters to a sense of the responsibility that rests upon them. The organization is complete in every precinct, a giant task requiring the utmost skill and patience. This effective appeal to the thousands of Precinct Chairmen and their sub-Committeemen has been supplemented by the generous advocacy of the State Press. The Democratic newspapers, realizing that this is not a boodle campaign, have opened their columns freely to the list of speakers' appointments and to all the other information necessary to the spread of news in a National contest. They have given columns to the dissemination of Democratic doctrine, thus equipping the voters with arguments and encouraging them to individual effort. The Democratic orators have been particularly gracious. Many of them are busy professional men, but they have left their offices and, under the direction of the Speakers Bureau have traveled night and day to keep engagements in remote precincts. The result of the united effort of the rank and file, is a reunited party, eager to give proof of its devotion. We may not reach 40,000, and may have to be content with 20,000 majority, but whatever the figure may be let it be decisive. Kentucky is no longer a Republican State. That much is certain. The extent of its redemption will be known on November 9th and it will depend upon the Democratic voters to set it at such a figure that never again will the party of fraud and assassination lay claim to the State.

The Louisville Post thinks the Presidential contest is settled. A correspondent of the paper, writing from Horse Branch, Ky., makes the statement that a hen in that little village has laid an egg with "T. Rosse" on it. The writer also states that "vell" would have been added to "Rosse," but the egg was not long enough for the letters. This last information was secured from the hen, making the story perfectly reliable.

It is said that $100,000 has been sent to the Republican State Campaign Committee from the National Chairman to be used in the Kentucky election.

There will be no fight between England and Russia. The trouble has been settled.

Mr. S. D. Barbee commenced removing the old R. L. Jones house last week. It was a fine old place and a handsome dwelling.

The burning out of a fire at Capt. Bradshaw's residence was a great deal of excitement in town one day last week. No damage.

Columbia continues to grow and to get a correct idea of the number of handsome houses which have recently been erected and the number now going up, you must take a stroll about town. There are no shacks being built, but all good, substantial homes, adding much beauty to the place.

There was a ten thousand dollar fire at Monticello last Wednesday night. Among the losers were Baker Bros. & Bradshaw, formerly of Evansville, who lost a barn attached to their livery. It was not insured. Neither was any of the other property destroyed. There were ten horses and two mules cremated in Ragan's livery stable.

Mr. Sam Slapp purchased of Mr. G. A. Dehoney, last Thursday the water-mill, known as the Fesse mill, one mile from Columbia, for $1,012.50. Mr. Slapp will remodel the buildings, put in rollers, and will as soon as possible have the machinery commenced making patent flour. It will cost a considerable sum to start this enterprise, but Mr. Slapp is an enterprising man.

Mr. Lee S. Smith, of Burksville, formerly a citizen of this county, and Miss Jewel Lawson, also of Burksville, were married in Tennessee Tuesday of last week. There was no occasion for the ceremony being said away from home, the trip to Tennessee being made for the novelty of it. The groom is an excellent gentleman, having sprung from one of Adair's best families. He is a popular Cumberland county livery.

We understand that Mr. W. F. Wesley, of Burksville, is looking over the country for some fine ring horses with the intention of visiting Kentucky Fairs next year. He formerly handled fancy horses, and before he went out of the business he was awarded more premiums at the Columbia Fairs than any other exhibitor. Mr. Wesley has many friends in Adair county, and next year they expect him to be at the Fair Grounds with a fine string of winners.

The Greensburg Record says that the Cumberland Telephone Company is building a line that will extend from Greensburg to Moody and on to the Green River bridge, on Campbellville place, where it will connect with a line owned by Mr. Henry H. Miller, who is building this end of the line, will have it completed in about ten days. Mr. Miller also says that Columbia will have long distance connection with the outside world not later than the 15th of November.

Prof. Hopkins, State Sunday-school Evangelist, delivered a very interesting lecture at the Christian church last Sunday night on the work. He also spoke Monday and Tuesday evenings. His lectures are made very impressive by the use of a stereopticon lantern. The church was crowded at all three of the appointments. To-night (Wednesday) and Thursday evening he will be at Greenville and Friday and Saturday nights he will speak at Cave Valley. He is a thorough Sunday-school teacher and every body who is interested in the cause should hear him.

The people of Adair, Green, Taylor and Russell counties are loud in their praise of the manner in which the fair was entertained at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, Louisville. This popular house of entertainment has been under the management of Mr. Pike Campbell, one of the best hotel men in Louisville, for a number of years, and his close attention to guests has made him popular with the traveling public throughout the state of Kentucky. Nice rooms and a better table can not be found in the city. Mr. Edward McCabe, is a trusted clerk and he knows his business and takes great pleasure in performing the duties assigned him. He has been in the employ of the hotel from a small boy, hence he is known for his gentle, kind and courteous treatment by a large majority of the Kentucky trade. The other clerks, whose names we do not know, deserve to be mentioned as there is nothing left undone to make guests feel at home. In visiting the city be sure and stop at this popular hotel.

MRS. CHAPMAN DEAD

Last Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, after a long illness, Mrs. ——— Chapman, who was the wife of the late Capt. J. S. Chapman, died at her late home, near Greenville.

Mrs. Chapman was a native of Tennessee, removing to Adair county with her husband about the close of the civil war. She was quite an aged lady, and had been ill for about three years past. During her residence in this county she lived mostly at Fairplay where her husband was a prosperous farmer and merchant. She was a consistent Christian and was ready and willing to meet her Maker.

She is survived by several children. Mr. John Chapman, Mrs. Paul Chapman being two of the number. A great many relatives and friends attended the funeral services on Friday. To the bereaved children this office extends its sympathy.

The residents of Columbia were delightedly entertained at the court-house last Friday evening by Miss Bettie Lewis, an elocutionist of Louisville, with a State repertoire, assisted by R. S. Scruggs, Mrs. Rollin Hurt, Mrs. W. E. Bradshaw and Miss Lina Rosefield, who rendered the music Lewis is well-known in Columbia, having taught here several years ago, and the announcement of her coming was hailed with delight by her many fans. Miss Lewis, with a few well-chosen words, was introduced by Gov. J. R. Hindman and the entertainment occupied about one and a half hours, Mrs. Lewis' selections being interspersed with music. As an elocutionist she has but few equals. Trained in the profession, with a clear and distinct voice, gestures perfect, she at once attracted the attention of her hearers, and pleasingly holds them throughout the program. She recited a number of high-class selections, so perfectly, that a most exacting critic would have to have got in a mark. Those who took part in the singing are well-known here, making it unnecessary for us to name them. As to talent, so generally known throughout the community. At the conclusion of the entertainment most of the hall audience met Miss Lewis at the rear of the hall, expressing the hand of welcome and a "God Speed" in her leaving work. During the evening she received many invitations to dine, but having a class at home, she was compelled to return Monday. During her stay in Columbia she was delightedly entertained by Mrs. Rollin Hurt.

Last Saturday Mrs. Rollin Hurt spent a most delightful day in honor of Miss Bettie Lewis, of Louisville. Those present besides the guest of honor, were Gov. J. R. Hindman and wife, Mr. J. F. Scruggs and Mr. J. E. Murphree. There was not a more hospitable home in Columbia, nor one where guests are made to feel more comfortable, the whole Hurt family being perfectly delighted while entertaining company.

Coffey Bros., sold to Wilson Bros., of Cave City, a 4-year-old roan horse in Columbia, for $1,000. Coffey Bros., & Young sold the same parties one mule 151 pounds, at $130. Wilson Bros., also bought about 125 cattle of different prices at 3 to 3 1/2.

The trial of Wm. Grier, for killing John Franklin, is now in progress at Jackson and will probably be concluded today. The testimony for the State was concluded last Saturday afternoon. There are conflicting opinions as to the result.

Last Sunday we went through Mr. Allen Walker's new residence which will be completed in about twelve or fifteen days. It is conveniently constructed and the rooms, ten in number, are being handsomely finished.

Fox & Sanders were in Columbia the first of the week, receiving cattle they purchased in August for Fall delivery. About 200 head were received at an average of 3 cents per pound.

Tom Wilson, of Warren county, received ninety head of cattle in this county last week. They were purchased from different parties at an average of 3 cents per pound.

I will on Nov. 7th offer for sale all my farming tools, stock, crop, household and kitchen furniture, at my home in Columbia. Scott Montgomery.

Every Democrat in the county should be in mind that next Tuesday will be the election, and that every effort should be made to get out the full vote.

STAYED.—From my farm, near Camp Knox, two red heifers. Information wanted. W. A. George.

Every Democrat in the county should be in mind that next Tuesday will be the election, and that every effort should be made to get out the full vote.

A Hunn bought 3 mules in Lincoln county, last week. He sold one pair to Bob Riles at $250 and one to Coffey Bros., & Young at $115.

There are ten residences now in course of construction in Columbia. There are but few towns in Kentucky growing faster than this place.

Vegetation throughout Adair county is very much in need of frost. The sections the water courses are almost dry.

A good Jersey cow for sale. W. S. Chapman, Columbia, Ky.

Go to the polls early next Tuesday and vote the Democratic ticket.

Born, to the wife of Robt. Nance, Oct. 21, a son.

Mr. Robt. English is having a nice veranda built to his residence.

OPTICAL WORK GUARANTEED

Vester, Monday, November 7th.

Danville, November 8th.

Liberty, November 10 and 11th.

Russell Springs, November 12th.

Jamestown, November 14th.

Exts and Monticello, November 15th.

We have special cases at the above places. In order to give those who are in need of optical work advantage of this trip we will remain one day at each place.

Our visit to the World's Fair was all and even a month than we had anticipated. Every person who can ought to take in this great show for it is immense in every particular. A University view of the grounds at night reminds one of the description of the New Jerusalem. All nationalities and the products of every country both new and manufactured, are there to be seen. There are so many attractions, so many places of interest that we make no mention of any certain exhibit. It is the greatest show of earth and well worth all it cost to spend a few days inside these magnificent buildings. One place that every Kentucky student visits is the Kentucky building and when resting in the sumptuous home should feel proud of the work done by A. V. Ford, of the Courier-Journal, who untiring efforts and determination did more to have this State creditably registered in this great show than any other man in all this State.

An exchange gives the following definition of poverty: A man is poor when he has lost the confidence of his friends, when people who are nearest to him; when his character is honeycombed by deceit, punctured by dishonesty. He is poor when he makes money at the expense of his character, when principle does not stand clear-cut, when he is too proud to talent, so generally known throughout the community. It is in danger of the worst kind of poverty. To be in the poor-house is not necessarily to be poor. If you have maintained your integrity, if your character stands four square to the world, if you have never bent the knee of principle to avarice, you are not poor, though you may be compelled to beg bread.

Mr. S. D. Crenshaw, who is a veterinary surgeon of long experience, certainly understands his business. We learn from Dr. J. H. Grady, who had Mr. Crenshaw to perform a difficult operation on his horse last week, that it was not only successfully done, but will evidently bring about a permanent cure. Dr. Grady is a surgeon himself and can tell from the handling of an instrument whether or not the operation is skilled in his profession. Dr. Grady cheerfully recommends Mr. Crenshaw as a first-class veterinary surgeon.

To the citizens of Adair county: The undersigned are in the tobacco business at Campbellsville, Ky.; Campbellsville is your neighbor, and as you have no manufacturer of this work in Columbia, we are not a mere house to patronize us? We guarantee satisfaction both in quality of work and amount. We solicit work from Adair and adjoining counties.

Wild ducks were plentiful on the river here last week, and afforded some sport for the boys. The writer with Jack Wells fired into a flock, at the mouth of Knoblick, killing three, but were disappointed to find that they were disposers.

The Casey County News is publishing the trial and doings of the noted guerrilla, Champ Ferguson. Champ was a desperate character and deserved to be hanged as high as Haman, and when editor Thomas gets through with publishing his trial he ought to enlighten the people as to some of the devilry of Jim Bridge-water, the equally notorious Federal guerrilla, who blood-curdling deeds are known to so many people in Lincoln and other counties adjoining. Bridge-water was shot to death by Walter Sanders while playing checkers in a barroom in the town of Stanford, though he ought to have been hanged at the end of a rope many years previous to his tragic taking off.

The stove jointer is in operation here at present, affording work for a number of men who would otherwise be out of a job.

M. A. Estes is preparing to build a residence on his father's farm, on the Liberty place, one and a half miles west of town.

Cornelia Floyd and Frank Falconberry will be tried at Middleburg Saturday October 27th. They are charged with having killed a hog, belonging to J. B. Wall. There are some dozen or more witnesses summoned in the case.

The Sunday-school teacher's meeting will be held at Dr. J. G. Wesley's office Saturday. The teachers of the Baptist and Methodist school will have a joint session for the study of the lesson. These meetings are doing great good in preparing the teachers to go before their classes. Sunday-school teachers who do not prepare for successful teaching to their class, ought to resign at once.

TREET-OR-FAC TIES TO ALL PART OF CITY

TEN COMMANDMENTS.

1. Make your household one harmonious whole, no matter how small the scale.
2. Use only what you can comfortably afford in good quality and ample quantity.
3. Let your home be bright and sunny. It is not easy to be unpleasant in a cheerful room.
4. Treat your servants wisely and kindly, and it will be impossible for them to either oppose or impose.
5. Have time for everything and be never in a hurry.
6. A certain formality is necessary to save everyday life from triviality, and freedom and looseness.
7. Do not forget that "society" is the death of home life—hospitality its flower.
8. Know how to talk and how to listen, how to entertain and how to amuse.
9. Have many interests and no studies.
10. Do not forget—your home should not only be a well-conducted dormitory and a boarding place, but truly a home, the center and focus of all interest, pleasure and happiness for every body connected with it.—Harper's Bazar.

HOW ANIMALS SWIM.

Almost all animals know how to swim, without having to learn it. As soon as they fall into the water, or are driven into it, they instinctively make the proper motions, and not only manage to keep afloat, but propel themselves without trouble.

Exceptions are the monkey, the camel, the giraffe, and the llama, which cannot swim without assistance. Camels and llamas have to be helped across water, and the giraffe and monkey drown if they enter it. Now then both the latter species manage to cross waterways when they are driven to extremities, just as human beings occasionally can keep themselves above water through sheer fright.

A funny, though able swimmer, is the rabbit. He submerges his body with the exception of head and tail. The latter sticks away up in the air, his hind legs make "soap suds" as he churns the water madly to get away. But with all his awkwardness he is a swift swimmer, and among the land animals is beaten only by the squirrel. The squirrel swims with his heavy tail sunk away down in the water, and his head held high. He floats the waves like a duck, and a man in a rowboat has all been down to keep abreast of the swimming squirrel.

One thing which none of the land-living animals does is dive. No matter how hard pressed a swimming deer, rabbit, squirrel, or any other purely terrestrial animal may be, it will remain above water. But the muskrat, beaver, sea bear, and otter dive immediately.

"Have you stopped to inquire what it means to widen the gulf between labor and capital? Have you stopped to inquire what it means to substitute enmity for good will between the employer and the employee? My friends, we must meet this question, and we must meet it in a spirit of human brotherhood. I want the laboring man to walk the streets with his head erect, feeling that he has something in this country to live for; I do not want him driven to his toll like a Southern slave at the point of 60,000 bayonets."—From Bryan's Louisville speech.

No matter what the Republicans may write into their platform, or what promises of peace and conservatism they make their candidates, or what the personality of Roosevelt, the vain, the arrogant, the wilful, He is the real issue. They may pledge themselves to an orderly, economical administration of affairs, with no thoughts of imperialism and no quarrel for the Trusts, but if he is re-elected he will feel licensed to conduct the Government to suit his errand fancies. There is no sound of Commerce Law with this imperious Rough Rider in the saddle. He will fount his party, overthrow precedent and pursue the same tactics that have during his brief term, struck terror to the hearts of peace loving citizens every where.

No matter whether you work in the mine, on the farm, or at a desk, whether your wages are only $1.00 a day, or in some of the manufacturing establishments that flourish under the tar-if, you still contribute every year to the protracted truce the sum of $60. You and your fellow citizens are mulcted out of this amount annually that Morgan and Rockefeller and other disciples of "Fronted Finance" may add to their millions. A vote for Roosevelt means a vote to continue this ever increasing burden. A vote for Parker means a vote to lift it from your bowed shoulders forever.—E. Town News.

BYRAN'S PART IN CAMPAIGN.

There is no more interesting development of this campaign than what might be termed the revitalization of Mr. Bryan's popularity. For a time it seemed as if his defeat had wrested from him the right to command. Those who feared that free silver might again be made an issue were suspicious of his leadership. They were quick to accuse him of selfishness, of a desire to revenge himself, on the Eastern Democrats who had refused to support him, thus disgracing the party and eventually blotting its name.

But Mr. Bryan rose above these calculations, as he rose superior to the temptations that would have seized a small politician whose mind was poisoned by defeat. He proved his right to the place he holds in the hearts of millions of his countrymen by standing on the broad platform of party loyalty, brushing aside the slanders that assailed him, forgetting the wrongs that have been heaped upon him in the hope that through his example the Democratic would once more become a united party.

His self-sacrifice will be in vain if his followers not only in Kentucky but throughout the country, do not emulate his wise and patriotic course. The election of Parker and Davis will be a personal victory for William Jennings Bryan for without his assistance there is no possibility of defeating Roosevelt. But, win or lose, he will come out of the campaign with his old popularity, unimpaired, the central orator and leader of his party.—E. Town News.

TALKING TREE.

Out on the farm of Will Albert, near Heath, the people of the section are yet wrought up over the "talking tree" that has been there for some time, says the Paducah News Democrat. Enormous crowds continue to congregate there almost every Sunday for the strange noises that emanate from the tree.

The voice can be distinctly heard and says "there are treasures buried at my roots." A party consisting of the most reliable citizens of the country visited the tree not long since to make a thorough investigation for themselves as to the noises being heard. They listened patiently for several hours and were preparing to leave for home when a sudden crash, which had been given many times before the marvelous production of a human voice, came.

The mystery yet remains unsolved, and so great has the number of people who have gone there in the past several months that the tree is now dead, caused by the continuous tramping on the earth surrounding the tree.

The only theory that has been suggested is that a man was killed under the tree in 1865, and while many do not believe in "spirits," the facts are so plain and the voice can be so distinctly heard that they cannot dispute the fact.

A family of people who lived there many years ago became so frightened from the voice that they sold their farm at a great sacrifice and went West and are now living in Texas.

TO SAVE FUNERAL EXPENSES.

Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, tells of a thrifty negro, who presented himself at the ticket office of a Memphis railway station and inquired what would be the charge of transporting a corpse "to Birmingham and return." Receiving the desired information, he next inquired what would be the cost of a round-trip ticket for himself. The tariff schedule was quoted and the ticket agent then said: "I'd like to know what you want a round-trip ticket on a corpse." The negro had no disposition to be mysterious and said: "Well, boss, it's dead yere wa. My wife Melinda, she's dead. She had a 'whol's raft' of folks over in Alabama and if I invite dem to de funeral dey's sure to camp on me for a week. So I'm a'oid to take de body over to Birmingham so dey'll bring her's dead and no dey'll dey'll huck hyah for de funeral."

A farmer near Union City, Mich., saves his neighbors by keeping apples, pears, peaches, grapes, etc., in their natural state for several years.

He now has apples and grapes grown in 1901 which can hardly be distinguished from this year's product. He now gives out his method of preservation, which is very simple, as he merely selects well-developed fruit with stems, picks it carefully and sears the end of the stems with a light match. Then he wipes the fruit perfectly dry, places it in a piece of dry wrapping paper and lays it away in a moderately dry and cool cellar.

JEFFERSON'S RULES OF CONDUCT.

Here are some rules made up by Thomas J. Jefferson which have seldom been seen in print. You boys and girls will enjoy reading them:

1. Never put off to morrow what you can do to-day.
2. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.
3. Never spend your money before you have it.
4. Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap; it will be dear to you.
5. Pride costs more than hunger and cold.
6. We never repent of having eaten too little.

DEMOCRATS AROUSED.

If there have heretofore existed any doubts as to what Warren County Democrats will do at the election two weeks from today those doubts were entirely removed by the presence in Glasgow Saturday to hear Gov. Beckham and Hon. Asher G. Caruth of the most thoroughly aroused, strongly determined and best organized body of Democrats that have come together here in a long time. The crowd was a large one, and every Democrat had his fighting clothes on, ready and eager for the coming battle.

Reports from every section of the county brought nothing but good tidings of Democracy. Democrats from every school district have organized and are still organizing working campaign clubs to insure a full vote being polled. The clubs heretofore organized are organizing other clubs, and some precincts have as many as four, every member of which is on the alert and hustling from early morning until late at night.

The Democrats of Old Barren are aroused, and they are going to roll up a regular Frank Wolford majority two weeks from today.—Glasgow Times.

STRIPES AND SCRIPTURE.

The origin of the stripes used in the convict's garb is explained by a writer in the New Orleans Times-Democrat. He says the custom comes from the Old Dispensation. The writer adds: "For instance, in the laws and ordinances of Deuteronomy we find the following, which will give perspective to the origin of stripes as a badge of infamy: 'If there be a controversy between men, and they come into judgment, that the judges may judge them; then they shall justify the righteous and condemn the wicked. And it shall be, if the wicked man be worthy to be beaten, that the judge shall cause him to lie down, and to be beaten before his face, according to the fault, by a certain number. And stripes him, and not exceed; lest if he should exceed, and beat him above the with many stripes, then thy brother should seem vile unto thee.'"

Now, instead of inflicting stripes, we put striped clothes on the men who offend the law, or who may "come into the judgment, that the judges may judge them," as it is put in the text. Of course you could go much further back in history if you cared to trace the marks of infamy, but you would find that physical mutilation of some sort, in a majority of instances, afforded the means.

The next Congressman from the Third District will be from Glasgow and he will be an editor. This condition of affairs does not exist in any other Congressional District in the United States and we doubt if it ever has. Both Richardson and Jones live in Glasgow and they both run newspapers. The newspaper fraternity of Kentucky without regard to politics will admit that both the great political parties of the Third District have shown a great deal of sense.—E. Town News.

MINERAL WATER.

It Has Been Recently Found on the Farm of J. C. Morrison, Taylor County.

This well is on the Campbellville and Greenwood pike, five miles from the former place and seven from the latter. The well is 88 feet deep and the water is as cold as a person would want it. It is situated on Mr. J. C. Morrison's place, who is making preparations to take a few boarders.

The following gives a full explanation: Agricultural Experiment Station, State College of Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., July 30, 14,554.—Mineral water sent by J. C. Morrison, Campbellville, Taylor county, Ky., July 18, 1904. The sample was received July 21, 1904, in pint bottle. The water smelled strongly of hydrogen sulphide and there was a deposit of sulphur in the bottle.

ANALYSIS. The water contains 320.9 grains of solid matter to the gallon, composed mainly of chlorides and sulphates of sodium, calcium and magnesium, some calcium carbonate and traces of iron, potassium and lithium compounds and a trace of borates. The water contained a very considerable quantity of hydrogen sulphide. Is very good saline sulphur water.
